Having an appropriate Practice Management System (PMS) is the foundation to a medical practice’s efforts toward achieving administrative efficiency, improving patient experience, and meeting healthcare reform mandates. With hundreds of PMS products to choose from, selection of the right system is imperative. EHNAC’s Practice Management Systems Accreditation Program (PMSAP), provides comprehensive review of PMS vendors in the marketplace.

PMSAP assesses health information and oversight for meeting privacy and security, HIPAA, HITECH, Omnibus Rule and ACA requirements, as well as technical performance, business processes and resource management. The comprehensive third-party review provides an additional level of confidence for medical practices and other healthcare providers who are under competitive pressures to continually maximize their cash flow.
Creating a Universal Benchmark for PMS Vendor Selection

In an ever more challenging healthcare environment, the EHNAC PMSAP provides medical groups with the confidence they need to select the best possible practice management system product to meet their administrative requirements.
